

PERFORMANCE DIRECTOR

SALARY – COMPETITIVE TO ATTRACT A WORLD CLASS CANDIDATE

The UK Boccia Federation (known as Boccia UK) is very well placed to build on successes in London and Rio to deliver great results in Tokyo. The performances and outcomes in competitions during 2017 have been the best in Boccia UK's history culminating in topping the medals table at the recent European Championships in Portugal.

Boccia UK's mission is to identify, develop and prepare our most talented athletes to represent the UK internationally and to facilitate the planning and co-ordination of the UK wide development of Boccia.

The mission is backed up by strong values, a sound culture, excellent staff and good relationships with the grass roots and development activities in all of the home countries.

As the strategic leader of Boccia UK's World Class Programme the post holder will drive the strategic delivery of the programme, with the attainment of the goals and targets laid out in the Tokyo strategy, while building a sustainable platform for the future and delivering on short term commitments and milestones

This role is about exemplary performance leadership and management. Alongside a hugely talented team of athletes, coaches and technical support staff, the successful candidate will evolve a compelling performance vision and enable all members of the team to deliver it successfully.

This is likely to appeal to a performance leader with a specific interest in sustaining performance success. A leader who understands how to cultivate a high-performance culture and who has the stakeholder influencing ability to build, through other organisations, a strong pipeline of athletes for the future. A flexible and creative thinker and an emotionally intelligent leader who can drive our aspiration through to remaining a world leader.

Essential requirements are:

- A background and recent experience of leading and managing a team operating in elite sport at the highest level
- A comprehensive and applied understanding of elite coaching, integrated sports science/medicine/ technology/data delivery, international competition & elite training environments and performance pathways
- Demonstration of commitment to creating, sustaining and operating a culture of integrity and the highest standards of athlete care
